Title STUDENT LOGS ON TO WIN IPOD @ GCC

Deptford Twp. - Gloucester County College has launched a new and improved campus website allowing students to check their emails, register for courses, explore the Internet and keep up-to-date with College activities and announcements. For a short time, as part of a promotional endeavor to encourage student use, the @GCC site also offers the chance to win a free Apple iPod.

Vaughn Hampton, of Westville, is the first of three lucky GCC winners to be randomly selected to receive the pocket-sized portable player that makes music, games, and audio books all accessible with just a few clicks. GCC President William F. Anderson presented Hampton, a second-year Liberal Arts major, with his prize between classes on October 31, a nice reward for regularly checking his student email and keeping connected to the campus.

"I've been using the new portal and checking daily for GCC announcements and updates," said Hampton, a self-described techie who continues to volunteer his audio and electrical talents during drama productions at his alma mater, Gateway High School. "I try to stay connected to the college, friends and family. I was surprised that I won and of course, very happy." Hampton will graduate from GCC this spring with an Associate Degree/ Fine and Performing Arts option and plans to transfer to a four-year college as a film major.

GCC students still have two more opportunities, November 14 and 28, to win an iPod by logging onto @GCC and following contest instructions. The @GCC site is a great way for students to know what's happening on campus and perhaps even win a gadget that plays favorite tunes and audio books—something that just may come in handy in English class.

Gloucester County College's 270-acre campus is located on Tanyard Road in Deptford, just off Exit 56 of Route 55.
