Title SECOND GCC STUDENT LOGS ON TO WIN IPOD

Deptford Twp. –Gloucester County College has launched a new and improved campus website allowing students to check their emails, register for courses, explore the Internet and keep up-to-date with College activities and announcements. For a short time, as part of a promotional endeavor to encourage student use, the @GCC site also offers the chance to win a free Apple iPod.

Jeana Morrison, of Williamstown, is the second of three lucky GCC winners to be randomly selected to receive the pocket-sized portable player that makes music, games, and audio books all accessible with just a few clicks. GCC President William F. Anderson presented Morrison, a second-year education major, with her prize between classes on November 14, a nice reward for regularly checking her student email and keeping connected to the campus.

GCC students still have one more opportunity on November 28 to win an iPod by logging onto @GCC and following contest instructions. The @GCC site is a great way for students to know what's happening on campus and perhaps even win a gadget that plays favorite tunes and audio books—something that just may come in handy in English class.

Gloucester County College's 270-acre campus is located on Tanyard Road in Deptford, just off Exit 56 of Route 55.
