

NEWS

PR 50 - November 10, 2008

GCC Murder Mystery Theatre Presents... "Karaoke Killer" WHERE SINGING COMPETITIONS CAN KILL YOU

Deptford Twp. – Singing competitions can sometimes bring out the worst in entertainers, but in Joh Mann’s “Karaoke Killers,” performing on stage could be hazardous to your health.

Gloucester County College’s Murder Mystery Theatre on Friday and Saturday, November 14 and 15, at 8 p.m. in the College Center cafeteria brings together a quirky cast of singers to compete for bragging rights as the best karaoke artist in the state and $10,000 in prize money. As the owner of the Pink Flamingo juggles diva performers, a persnickety judge and a secret restaurant critic in the audience, someone in the competition will do anything to win—even commit murder.

Tickets are $10 per person and must be purchased in advance. The performance includes dessert and beverage. For more information and tickets, please call (856) 415-2139.

Gloucester County College is located on Tanyard Road in Deptford, just off Exit 56 of Route 55. There is free parking a short distance from the College Center.